Salisbury University Web Development Office

Michael Martin

Web Developer Intern

- Programming effective web pages and web applications

- Use a Website Work Request System to communicate with faculty and staff

- Migrating old SU web pages into our new Content Management System

- Train SU faculty and staff on how to use the CMS

- Learning new programming languages

- Learning how to use the CMS

- Training faculty and staff who have no web design/developing experience

- Fulfilling the specific needs of the customer

- Web development in high school

- Additional college programming courses

- Group Assignments

- Programming Languages

- Professional Work Environment

- Communicating with clients

- Problem solving using the internet

- Teamwork

- Web Development Software

- Content Management Systems

- Databases